

BONAPARTE HITS AT CRIMINAL LAW

Fails of Its Purpose and Justice Is Cheated of Her Due.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 19.—Charles J. Bonaparte, Attorney General of the United States, made sweeping criticism of the criminal law of the United States in his operation today, in an address last night before a joint session of the National Municipal League, of which he is president, and the American Civic Association.

"American criminal law today fails of its purpose," he declared. "The legitimate problems of the criminal law are two:

"First, to find out when and by whom the people's will has been disobeyed; and, second, to deal with the one guilty of such disobedience that others, and ordinarily himself as well, may be taught to obey in future.

"It fails of this partly because the bench and professional opinion among the bar tolerate all kinds of dilatory, frivolous, and often ridiculous proceedings on the part of unscrupulous counsel, intended to cheat justice of her plain due."

OPIUM CANS SEIZED IN SMUGGLING PLOT

Despite Crusade in Manila Chinese Sneak Drug Into City.

"MANILA, Nov. 19.—An opium smuggling plot, cunningly devised by Chinese, was thwarted today, when 100 cans of the drug were discovered in a barrel supposed to contain cement. The shipment was for Corregidor Island. The opium was confiscated.

Despite the vigilance of the authorities, the Chinese have succeeded in bringing in large quantities of opium, and it is almost as easy to obtain it as before the crusade was begun.

MASON GETS JEWEL LOST SEVEN YEARS

W. H. De Shields Recovers Past Master's Insignia Worth $100.

A past master's jewel, which was lost more than seven years ago by W. H. De Shields, past master of Osiris Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., was found yesterday by James Trimble, janitor at Scotch Rite Hall.

Mr. De Shields lost the jewel while changing his coat on a mezzanine platform in the lodge room. Three minutes after it fell from his pocket he discovered his loss. It was found back of one of the lockers, where it fell while he was removing his coat.

The jewel is valued at about $100.

SURPRISE JOKERS.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Nov. 19.—Learning that "her friends, as a joke, had planned a 'tin shower' upon her for last evening, Miss Mary Gladstone, a spinster of this town, stole a march on the jokers by scurrying around and getting a husband whom she presented to her friends, to their complete consternation. The man upon whom Miss Gladstone exercised her leap year privilege was William Green, of Stamford.

WOMEN CLERKS ANGRY; SLIGHTED BY ELIGIBLE

District Building Bachelor Passes by Fair Ones in Same Edifice and Advertises in the Papers for a "Congenial Lady" With "a View to Early Marriage."

The women clerks of the District building are exceedingly wrathful.

It is not that their pay has been reduced nor that half an hour has been added to their daily grind—merely that they have been grossly slighted.

And all because of the following insignificant little ad. in a Washington paper:

A YOUNG MAN, 35 years of age, holding position under the District Government, wishes to meet a congenial lady with a view to early marriage. Address BOX 420.

There is nothing unusual in the fact that the advertiser is thirty-five and holds a job. A lot of fellows say say "me too" to that. The unusual, confounding and dumbfounding feature about the whole matter is that the unknown has been unable to find a congenial soul mate without going outside of his own building for her. A representative of The Times asked a District building elevator conductor today to explain this, and while between the second and third floors the elevator man said: "Far be it from me to take business away from the want columns, but I am constrained to observe that there are in our midst many whom the employees of the building agree would be 'congenial companions' to Box 420. By what process of reasoning this advertiser feels called upon to invoke the aid of the press in order to assume the joys of marital existence is beyond my comprehension, and that of others with whom I have discussed this mysterious case."

"There have, I understand, been vague rumors about that the detective force would be detailed to locate this disconsolate bachelor, and, at the same time, with a view to removing both the cause and the disease, pointing out to him that many a fair flower remains unplucked in his own garden, and that a simple notice stuck in take District building elevator might have fallen in view of some 'congenial' lady who's tired of working and wants to settle down."

NOW IS THE TURKEY BIDDING HIS ADIEU

Bronze Gobbler and Mrs. Gobbler Getting Ready to Be Stuffed With Chestnuts or Oysters for Place on Sacrificial Altar—For 22 Cents, Too.

"Now is the time when the 'freshly killed' turkeys are taken out of cold storage and sold to trusting housekeepers," said some one the other day.

He cruelly maligned both the turkeys and the turkey killers, and also the cold storage people. Thousands of turkeys now rest serenely on their beds of ice in the great refrigerating plant of the Center Market, but thousands more are alive and defiant, in the local wholesale markets. They are trying to rear their proud necks through the narrow slits of wooden crates, and in that position of discomfort are bought and sold at the rate of hundreds an hour.

But it is in the turkey as we all know him best—bare of his finery, and ready to be decapitated—that we are most interested. What is Thanksgiving Day without a turkey to be thankful for? One can easily conjure up a picture of the noble bird as in his coat of brown he lies on his platter, crisp and tender, with arms spread across his chest, awaiting the query, "White or dark?"

Did not Charles Lamb make a mistake when he so enticingly and appetizingly described the glories of the aromatic, crackling roast young pig? Surely no porcine, great or small, ever transcended the brown glories of our Thanksgiving burnt sacrifice. Picture him as you last saw him, hot and steaming, ready for the knife, and recall if you can any sight or smell that has ever equally appealed to the ravished senses. No; roast little pigs and roast beef, all that, and well enough in their season. This is the day of the turkey. Long may he gobble.

Out on the farms, whether these be in the Virginias or the Vermonts, or somewhere else, the older members of the turkey family are bidding each other a fond farewell. What most concerns us is not the sorrow of the turkeys but the joy of the man who has a turkey for his dinner.

key family, but the fact that the members thereof all look alike nowadays when they are dead. Once we could press down some sort of a vertebra of a breast bone, the name whereof we wot not, and know if the bird were a grandfather or only a younger son. Now, alas, there are chemicals with which the lips of the vertebra are sealed, and we know not in advance whether we are going to sorrow with age or share the joys of Youth!

But coming from the abstract to the concrete, we find that just now we can buy turkeys at from 22 to 25 cents per pound, all ready to take home.

Turkey is less expensive perhaps than Mrs. Turkey, but as long as you get your bird, don't worry as to which is which.

LUGICAL ECZEMA CURE ENDORSED BY PHYSICIANS

After treating eczema for years as a practically incurable blood disease, the medical world is greatly interested in the discovery that it is not a blood disease at all, but is due to a parasite in the skin itself. This parasite is easily destroyed by the external application of a compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., which will quickly kill all eczema germs, while soothing and refreshing the skin.

It is A. Folkers, of Duluth, Minn., tells of the success of the D. D. Prescription in treating patients: "There was a man here suffering from Eczema for the last fourteen years, and I applied the D. D. treatment. I also applied it to a man of West Duluth, Minn., who has been suffering with Rheumatism for fourteen years, and Eczema in his feet, and the second treatment in both cases cleared the skin almost absolutely. I hope that everyone in the world will be able to learn of your grand remedy. The first application is only a balm, and its soothing effect is beyond expression. I shall never be without it, and shall use it among my patients hereafter."

No matter how terribly you suffer from eczema, salt rheum, ringworm, etc., you will feel instantly soothed and the itch allayed at once when a few drops of this oil of wintergreen compound is applied. The cures all seem to be permanent.

MINISTERS WILL SEE SAMSON AND DELILAH

Protesting Against Salome, Hammerstein Asks Preachers to Be His Guests.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Confident in his belief that it would impress them with a solemnity equal to that of any religious ceremony, and to prove to them what an altogether refining and moral thing grand opera is, Oscar Hammerstein has invited 600 clergymen to be his guests tonight at his new opera house here to witness the production of "Samson and Delilah."

At a mass meeting of local ministers a few days ago, resolutions were passed protesting against the opera "Salome," which Hammerstein had intended to present. While "Samson and Delilah" is not "Salome" by any means, the great Hammerstein is not blind in recognizing the Biblical foundation on which tonight's opera is founded, and he has invited the ministers to see with their own eyes one of the so-called questionable operatic productions.

To the 600 invitations over 400 replies have been received, and over a hundred ministers have so far accepted.

BATHES CHILDREN IN GASOLINE ONLY

Mother "Too Lazy" to Dress Little Ones; Father Gets Divorce.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Because gasoline was the only fluid she would use to wash their two children, Cyrus Sanford was granted a divorce today from Minnie T. Sanford.

"My wife," he says, "drenched a rag with the gasoline, and in two minutes had given each of the children a bath. It takes too much time and is too much trouble to scrub those young ones with water," she said. "Gasoline is the quickest way to clean them with the least trouble."

"She used to let the children run around stark naked half the time because it was too much work to dress them."
